Centers for Early Childhood Education and Care “Nintei Kodomo-en” >>>

What kind of place is a center for early childhood education and care?

A center for early childhood education and care (“Nintei Kodomo-en”) is a childcare support facility that combines the advantages of kindergartens and Daycare centers as well as provides integrated services for early childhood education and childcare. Childcare fees are determined according to the residential tax amount of each household.

*Childcare fees for children in 3-year-old classes or older are free of charge.

3 Key Points

- ① Regardless of the employment status of the parents, any child between the ages of three and five years old may receive both education and childcare.
- ② Even when the employment status of the parents changes, such as when parents stop working, their children may continue using the same center they are used to.
- ③ Since child-rearing support services are available, even families whose children do not attend the centers can use child-rearing consultation services and participate in events such as interactive gatherings for parents and children.

*For further details about temporary care, see P44.

*Eligible ages and opening hours vary by center. For further details, see the List of Centers for Early Childhood Education and Care. (P18-25)

Kindergarten "Yochien"

What kind of place is a kindergarten?

Kindergartens ("Yochien") are facilities that provide early childhood education for children aged 3 and older to establish a foundation for education at elementary school and higher education. Procedures and childcare fees differ depending on whether or not the kindergarten falls under the new system.

In addition, there are also temporary childcare services to assist guardians.

※For further details, inquire with kindergartens.

Daycare Center “Hoikusho”

What kind of place is a Daycare Center?

A Daycare center “Hoikusho” is a facility where infants and young children are looked after if their parents cannot take care of them at home due to employment or other circumstances. Childcare fees are determined according to the child’s age, the residential tax amount of each household and other factors.

※There is no charge for children 3 years and older (class age).

Daycare Centers

Eligible ages and opening hours vary by daycare center. For further details, see the List of Daycare Centers (P30-35).

Temporary childcare

This service is available at Daycare centers on a daily basis in the following cases (prior application is required):

- (a) In the event childcare becomes necessary due to parents' employment, studies, or other reasons.
- (b) In the event childcare becomes necessary due to a parent's medical appointment/hospitalization, a temporary illness, natural disasters/accidents, childbirth, a ceremonial occasion, or responsibilities such as nursing or caregiving."
- (c) In the event childcare becomes necessary to reduce the psychological/physical burden on parents (for refreshment)

*For further details, inquire with Daycare centers providing such services.

Holiday childcare

Childcare is available if parents have Type 2 or Type 3 Certification and their children go to authorized daycare centers or centers for early childhood education and care, or they use community-based childcare programs when childcare is needed on Sundays and national holidays due to parental employment or similar reasons.

*Please contact the individual facilities for details.

3 Ways to Promote Oral Health

1. Getting your child accustomed to brushing their teeth

Have your child brush their teeth when they begin to come in. Make sure to use a fluoride toothpaste to prevent tooth decay.

Usage of fluoride toothpaste Fluoride concentration 1000ppm
Age	Amount	Toothbrush
Until 2 years old	About the size of a grain of rice (1-2mm)
From 3-5 years old	About the size of a green pea (5mm)

2. Getting regular dental checkups and fluoride application

Visit a family dentist twice a year for regular dental checkups and fluoride treatment. Check for tooth decay, proper tooth brushing techniques, and any problems with the development of oral functions.

3. Teaching your child healthy eating habits

A proper diet is essential for a child's healthy development. On the other hand, overeating sweets and snacks and remaining food in the mouth for long periods can lead to tooth decay, so let's maintain good eating habits to keep good oral health.

Effects of fluoride treatment

- It builds strong teeth and prevents cavities.
- It slows the growth of cavities.

SIDS (Sudden Infant Death Syndrome)

SIDS is an illness in which a baby without any medical history suddenly passes away without any warning signs, differing from accidental death such as suffocation. There have not been specific precautions to prevent SIDS, but some data show that the following three measures are effective to reduce the risk of SIDS.

●To reduce the risk of SIDS

- ① Have your baby sleep on their back until they turn 1 year old.
- ② Try to breast-feed your baby as much as possible.
- ③ Have everyone in the family quit smoking.

※Causes of death of babies during sleep includes Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS), as well as accidents due to suffocation and other causes.

●To prevent suffocation accidents

- ① Let the baby lay down in a crib and always raise the barrier.
- ② Use a firm mattress and pillow.
- ③ Do not place anything that may cover the baby's mouth, nose, or wrap around their neck.
